

InfoTrac Custom Newspapers Search Tips

InfoTrac Custom Newspapers is an innovative Web-based, full-text newspaper database that lets you search newspapers electronically by title, headline, date, author, section, or other assigned fields, eliminating random searches through newspaper archives for specific articles page after page. Newspapers in your collection are customized by your library from a growing list of important publications including regional, national, and international sources.

CHOOSE A SEARCH TYPE

From the menu below the Gale PowerSearch "blue" banner.

- Basic Search: offers a straightforward way to search featuring a single search box, the choice of selecting from the most widely used search options, and the optional ability to add search limiters. Is ideal when keywords and phrases are too specific to be found in the subject guide. There are three Basic Search options:

- Basic Search by Subject: Use to search for topics such as news topics, companies, events, laws, geographic locations, organizations, people, etc.
- Basic Search by Keyword: Lets you search on significant fields in documents, including titles, introductory text, authors, and subject terms.
- Basic Search by Entire Document: Looks for any word or words within the entire text of all documents in the database(s) you are searching, as well as in the fields of information included in the Keyword search.

- Publication Search: Use to browse & view the contents of a specific publication.
- Advanced Search: Select an index and combine search terms and limits for the most precise searches.

CONDUCT THE SEARCH

1. Type the search terms in the entry box.
2. For more specific results, limit the search by adding the publication date, publication title, or other limiters.
3. Click on the Search button.

VIEW THE RESULTS

Basic and Advanced searches yield a Results list that matches the search terms (see below).

Publication Search lists all titles of the publications in which the words you searched for occur.

A rise in sea levels and other changes fueled by global warming threaten roads, rail lines, ports, airports and other important infrastructure, and policy makers and planners should be acting now to avoid or mitigate their effects, according to new government reports.

While increased heat and "intense precipitation events" threaten these structures, the greatest and most immediate potential impact is coastal flooding, according to one of the reports, by an expert panel convened by the National Research Council, the research arm of the National Academy of Sciences.

Another study, a multiagency effort led by the Environmental Protection Agency, sounds a similar warning on infrastructure but adds that natural features like beaches, wetlands and fresh-water supplies are also threatened by encroaching saltwater.

NARROWING YOUR SEARCH RESULTS

The yellow box in the left navigation of your results list allows you to narrow your search results by searching within the result set you just retrieved. To narrow your results, enter another search term in the box and click Go.

To further narrow your results, you may use the drop down menu option in the yellow box, which allows you to sort and view the results by subject, publication title, or document type. This is especially helpful for obtaining results from a specific publication title or if you are interested in specific article types. For example, the drop down menu will include the ability to display the results according to the newspaper section the results came from e.g. Business, Opinion & Editorial, Lifestyle, etc.

SAVE, PRINT, TRANSLATE or E-MAIL ITEMS

- To Save an item to view later in your search session: Click in the Mark box to the left of the article title.

- To View your list of saved items: Click on the Marked Items hyperlink at the top of the screen.
- To Print an item: Click on the Print Preview link in the Tools box located to the right of the article content.
- To E-mail an item: Click on the E-mail link in the Tools box located to the right of the article content. Enter the e-mail address, subject line & message (if desired), and sender's e-mail address in the E-mail Delivery box.
- To Download an item as a file to be saved on your computer or to a CD, click the Download link located to the right of the article content.
- To Translate an item into any of eight different languages, select the language you want to translate the article into from the drop down menu of choices in the Tools box located to the right of the article content and click on the blue Translate button.

HOW TO CITE ITEMS

- To cite a document, use the Citation Tools link located in the Tools box to the right of the article content.
- Choose MLA, APA, or Plain Text and click Save.
- A dialog box will open, click Open and a new window with your citation. You can copy and paste the citation like any other text.

SEARCH ALERTS and RSS FEEDS

Search Alerts will notify you via email when new content is added to the database that matches your search criteria. You may choose to have the system check for new content on a daily, weekly or monthly basis and send you an e-mail message in html format when updates are found.

To create a Search Alert, simply click on the  Create a Search Alert icon and fill in the appropriate email address and frequency fields. You may also subscribe to an RSS feed and have content delivered directly to you.

To create an RSS feed, click on the  Create a Search Alert icon and copy the URL provided for your search and paste it into your reader.
